Two Wheat Champions Honored By Friends, Neighbors At Drumheller

By G. W. ROBERTSON, Field Supervisor.

MORRIN.—Starland M.D. was well represented at the annual banquet of the Agricultural Society held in Knox United Church Hall in Drumheller early in December. Singled out for special recognition were our two wheat champions, Ronald Leonhardt and Ricky Sharpe. The leader and several members of the Livingstone-Morrin Calf Club won different recognitions. Significant contributions to the entertainment of the evening were made by the members of the Rowley-Rumsey Girls' Club and by the members of the Munson Girls' Club.

However, the entire program was amply representative of the district as a whole. Among distinguished visitors were two well remembered friends, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Bell, now of Calgary. The speaker of the evening was Hon. Gordon Taylor who, as he has so often done before in Drumheller, set the range of vision of his audience on a higher plane of tolerance and mutual understanding.

Others who brought good wishes and greetings were Miss Fraser and Miss Shatz, the District Home Economists; Mr. S. Pettem, the District Agriculturist; N. Putnam, the assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Ed Ness of the Wheat Pool.

A Certificate of Merit was presented to Mr. W. Acton of Drumheller on behalf of the society by the president, Mr. George Carter. The recognition was accorded Mr. Acton for his long term of service to the society as its treasurer.

Train Demolishes Car, Elderly Man Killed

EDMONTON (BUP)—Donald L. Smith, 63, formerly of White Rock, B.C., was instantly killed late Thursday when his car collided with a speeding CPR passenger train near Leduc.

Smith, a car salesman for Leduc Motors, was driving across a level crossing when the southbound train rammed his car, demolishing it and killing the elderly widower.

The accident occurred three miles south of Leduc and Smith's body was brought to Edmonton.

FAT BOY'S DIET

Shouldn't Tempt Will Power Of Dieting Mate

By ELMER WHEELER

Now it's time to give some advice to the wives of husbands who are trying to shake off a few pounds with this diet.

If the wife isn't dieting, it's a good idea not to eat your steaks in front of him while he's going with less food than usual.

SERVING Fat Boy "special diet dishes," while you sit back and guzzle down spilt pea soup, mashed potatoes and gravy with side orders of pork chops, won't do his will power any good.

If you must eat that way, do it at noon when he isn't around. Do your eating up to supper-time, then slow down and eat what Fatso eats.

Remove temptation from the poor guy.

Trim the fat for him in the kitchen, so he won't slide down a hunk when you aren't looking.

Help him keep from "calorie-cheating" himself.

LET FATSO think, of course, that he is really doing the picking and the choosing, but you do this for him back in the mysterious corners of the kitchen.

Sneak your own sweet tidbits in the afternoon when the girls are around gossiping, but keep them hidden from the old mouse.

Don't be a martyr, either.

If you let him think it is tough on you, if you go around saying, "This is certainly no picnic for me—but for your sake, Aloysius, I'll stay with you," he'll say, "Ah, nuts!" and go down to the corner free lunch at Kelly's and drown his disgust in meat balls and blintzes.

Don't let him feel you're doing him a favor, or he'll rebel.

YOU NEED 15 calories a day for each pound of your present weight, to maintain that weight. By adding 1,000 a day you gain—by taking off 1,000 you lose.

Four pounds to go!

Four pounds—but they're the hardest yet.

After reducing 40 pounds, it's like being on the 4-yard line after a 40-yard run. The touchdown is toughest!

(To Be Continued)

Records show that 14 and 15 are the dangerous ages for delinquency; more than half the boys and over two-thirds of the girls found delinquent by Canadian courts in 1950 were of those ages.

S.D.A. Church Has Record Year

LEVEL LAND—The annual meeting of the SDA Church took place on Monday night, Dec. 29. All reports were given from the different departments and 1952 showed a record year for various offerings.

Mr. John Grabo, treasurer of the church, gave the report on the money handled by each department.

Mrs. Earl Chandler Sr. gave the Dorcas Society report.

Mr. Richard Huetner gave the Sabbath School report for the year.

The home mission report was omitted because Mr. Ghubel was vacationing.

The church clerk report was given by Mr. Elmer Schaber.

Auditors were appointed to audit the books in the early part of January.

Pastor C. C. Voth was present.

SOLDIERS' CHRISTMAS MAIL DUMPED INTO THE SEA

Thousands of Canadian letters, dumped from plane between Japan and Korea to save lives.

Thousands of Christmas letters sent to Canadian and other Commonwealth troops in Korea were dumped from a plane somewhere between Japan and Korea to safeguard human life.

The post office in their Tuesday announcement said the aircraft was not Canadian but Commonwealth and operates between Japan and the Commonwealth H.Q. in Korea.

Only one of the Canadian bags was discovered. Though the search is continuing, there is a strong possibility that the remainder are lost.

Few details of the mishap have been given out by the department, other than the letters were mailed to arrive in the army post office in Vancouver on or about November 22.

This loss marks the first mail lost to Canadian troops in Korea since the war began. In that time millions of letters, parcels and newspapers have been shipped safely to Korea by sea and air.

The accident occurred November 27th when the Commonwealth DG-3 carrying passengers as well as cargo experienced difficulty in maintaining altitude after take-off from Japan.

Rather than risk the lives of passengers and crew over mountainous territory and the sea between Japan and Korea, the pilot decided to ditch the postal cargo, dropping some of the bags on land and some in the sea. The load thus lightened, the aircraft reached Korea successfully.

For some of the Canadians, this will mean a sad Christmas. Though unsure of the total number of letters and parcels lost, postal authorities believe they contained a big portion of first class Canadian mail.

A postal bag in Canada normally averages about 3,000 letters. This would bring the total possible loss to about 25,000 letters or small parcels.

First-class mail destined for Korea is usually picked up by Canadian Pacific Airlines at Vancouver about four times a week. Other classes of mail and parcels are usually sent to Japan by ship.

In Japan the military takes over, with a Commonwealth air shuttle service transporting the mail to the Commonwealth headquarters in Korea.

Though the mail is presumed lost, postal authorities recall that similar mishaps occurred during the Second World War. Sometimes mail was recovered six months after it was presumed lost.

But that appeared to be a remote possibility. For Canadian mothers, wives, and sweethearts who had sent letters to their loved ones in Korea some time during the third week in November, it appeared best to repeat the letters, the authorities said.

Lighted Tree Stolen From Intersection

DELIA—The annual FWUA Boxing Day dance was held in the Olympia Theatre and was a huge success. The hall was full to capacity. The Allan King orchestra supplied the music and the boys are to be commended for their fine musical ability. They have a very fine orchestra which was very much enjoyed by all present.

The citizens of the village and surrounding district were very much shocked the morning after the dance to find that someone had knocked down and carried away a very beautiful Christmas tree from the centre of Main Street.

This tree was truly a beautiful sight to behold and had a great many lights all over it. It is hard to believe that anyone could be so callous as to deliberately destroy such a token of "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men." It could be nothing less than deliberate vandalism, as it was in the exact centre of the intersection and there was plenty of room for anyone to travel around it. It is hoped that some day the culprit will have a twinge of conscience and also be brought to justice to pay for the damage.

Can Stubble Burning Control Annual Weeds?

Many farmers feel that annual weed seeds can be destroyed by burning the stubble and straw either in the fall of the year or the following spring. They feel that the heat of the burning trash is sufficient to destroy the seeds or, in the case of Tartary Buckwheat or Wild Oats, to speed up the after-ripening stage through which these seeds must go.

G. R. Sterling, Supervisor Soil Conservation and Weed Control does not recommend this practice. He states that the burning of trash and stubble leaves the soil too vulnerable to both wind and water erosion; besides, there is a definite loss of soil fertility. He warns that only a very few weed seeds will be destroyed by burning the trash. Most of the weed seeds will be lying right on the surface of the soil and will not be destroyed as all of the heat from the burning stubble rises. The only seeds to be destroyed will be those that happen to be lying on small bunches of straw or stubble. As most of the seeds are small and heavy in relation to their size, they will shake through the straw and lie on the surface of the soil.

Mr. Sterling says he had occasion to check a burnt field during the last week and noted that the stubble was only burnt to within an inch of the soil. In some cases small bunches of chaff were left unburnt and could be seen by removing some of the burnt ashes. He points out that none of the wheat kernels or wild oat kernels were even swollen nor did they have a burnt taste. Mr. Sterling warns farmers against stubble burning and advises them to control weeds by chemical or cultural means.

The Gypsies Hold Their Own

The recent study in Great Britain showed that, in the last 450 years, little change has occurred in Britain's gypsy population. The report showed that gypsies still retain their own language, continued a nomadic life in caravans and settled down only in the winter.

Further, gypsies continued to earn their living by fortune-telling, part-time farm work, trading and hawking and remained largely illiterate and ignorant of the laws of the country. This is a remarkable record in one way, since the gypsies seem to be defying the progress of the ages.

Yet the gypsies, it is said, remain extremely proud of their race and their language and are sensitive to prejudice against them. With all due respect to the gypsies, whom we have nothing against, we suggest they fall in step with the times and get with it, so to speak.

Though the gypsies have defied modern civilization successfully for many centuries, they are fighting a losing battle, are sure to lose out in the end, despite the predictions of gypsy fortune-tellers.

Ike Thinks Trip Helped

General Eisenhower has told his friends that he believes the trip he made to Korea and the Far East was a great help to him. The trip probably helped Eisenhower more than it did prospects for an immediate cease-fire, but in the end the two amount to the same thing.

Ike returned with no formula for suddenly ending the war, although he is going to try to do just that. He has said he sincerely believes that the final solution of the Korean thorn was speeded by his trip—and this may well be true, in view of the added knowledge and information gained by the man who must direct the national effort in Korea for the next four years.

Note and Comment

What happens is not as important as what the people believe has happened.

It is very easy for some people to believe that they are natural-born leaders.

His Worship, His Honour, The Mayor

The title of "mayor" has an ancient and honourable history. The French form of the title is maire; in Germany, it is burgermeister; in Italy, podesta; in Spain, alcade; and in Scotland, provost. Originally, the title had much wider significance than it has today.

Among the nations which arose on the ruins of the Roman empire and who made use of Latin as their official and legal language, maior and the Low Latin maiorissa were convenient terms to describe important officials of both sexes who had the superintendence of others. Thus it was that the male officer who governed the King's household was known as maior domus. In the households of the Frankish Kings, the maior domus, who was also variously known as the gubarnator, rector, moderator or praefector palati, was so great an officer that, frequently, he ended by evicting his master, a custom which tradition has preserved even unto these times!

Beside the maior domus (the major domo), there were other officers who were maiores, for instance: the maior equorum (mayor of the horse) and the maior cubuli (mayor of the bedchamber).

A title which could be applied so easily and in so many circumstances was certain to be widely used. The post-Augustine maiorum, "one of the larger kind" was the origin of the mediaeval Spanish merinus, who, in Castilian, is the merino, a judicial and administrative officer of the King. The gregum merinus was the superintendent of the flocks of the corporation of sheep-owners called the mesta; whence the sheep, and then the wool, have come to be known as merino—a word identical in origin with the municipal title of mayor.

In England, the chief officers of the boroughs down to the 11th century were the appointed reeves. The mayor appears in the 12th century at the period when municipal life was developing rapidly. He was elected head of the town government. London obtained a mayor in 1191, and, by the middle of the 13th century, the practice was general.

The mayors of certain cities in the British Isles have acquired by prescription the prefix of "Lord". The title "right honourable" is a distinction conferred only upon the Lord Mayors of London, York, Belfast, and in Australia, of Melbourne, Sydney and Adelaide. The title is likewise accorded the Lord Provosts of Edinburgh and Glasgow.

In the United States, it is the custom to accord the prefix "Honourable" to the mayors of cities and it is usual to address them as "Your honour". In Canada, the traditional British salutation prevails, namely "Your Worship."

The mark of respect thus accorded the chief magistrates of our cities and towns derives from the mellowed pages of history and serves to remind us of the unbroken link between the municipal governments of today and their early counterparts of long centuries ago.

That "Scrap Of Paper"

(From the Winnipeg Tribune)

With the price of newsprint ready to pop up another $10. a ton next month, excited diplomats in future should speak a little more respectfully about the value of a scrap of paper.

The increase will mean that the cost of the paper on which this is printed will be nearly seven cents a pound.

A newspaper of 32 pages weighs a pound. The average edition of the Tribune these days runs to more than 32 pages. The nickel you pay for the Tribune, therefore, does not nearly cover the cost of the paper, to say nothing of the ink, the photographs, drawings and editorial matter.

CHEAP U.S. MONEY

A few nondescriptive comments. I stood near the head of a line at a luggage counter in Calgary. I heard a clerk say, "Some more of that lousy American money." I said, "It's the money that pays for the Korean War." A young lass sneered, "Oh, yah?"

At a hotel that night I handed the clerk a U.S.A. five dollar bill, she deducted twenty-five cents for exchange. She had U.S.A. money in her till, I was told the next morning.

A Calgary friend recently wrote me the uneasy feeling in Canada about our decision no longer to be Santa Claus. We have given just

$7 billion dollars to other countries in the last twenty years—only eleven have been returned. A parent expects respect for the care given to his children, yet our neighbors and debtors are not our friends. It is because of our gifts our dollar is below par, yet the desk clerk said to me, "This is the way you have treated us for years, now it is your turn to take it."

Ninety per cent of the U.N. forces in Korea is U.S.A. Thirty-seven per cent of the upkeep of the U.N. is paid by us, "Lousy Americans."

Well-Countered

Joan went to a summer resort and met the young man with whom she had quarreled the year before.

"Sorry," she murmured sweetly, "I didn't quite get your name." "I know you didn't," he said cheerfully. "But you tried hard enough."

His Inspiration

"What made you a millionaire?" "Curiosity had a lot to do with it. I wanted to see if there was any income my wife couldn't live beyond."

A farmer's wife, suddenly clothes conscious, went to New York and indulged in an orgy of buying. One of the fripperies she wore home was a fancy hat, replete with ribbons, fruits and feathers. As she stepped out of her sedan, a gust of wind blew it off her head and sent it whirling toward the barn. Before she could retrieve it, the hired man had fired at it twice and the dog buried it back of the kennel.

Satisfied Passengers

"All this talk about back seat drivers is bunk. I've driven a car for ten years and I've never had a word from behind." "What sort of a car?" "A hearse."

Oral Evidence

"What makes you think the frisky-looking old gentleman in room 416 owns a plantation?" the house detective in the swank hotel asked the Swedish maid.

"Vell", she replied, "ven I was dustin' by his door I heard him say, 'Let's have anodder drink, den go out and raise cane, sugar'."

Private Eye's Wife A Peeper

DETROIT—Thomas L. Anderson, 31, a private detective, faces trial here on bigamy charges—all because of his second wife's police work.

Anderson stood mute when arraigned before Recorder's judge Frank G. Schemanske, then waived examination.

He said he works for a detective agency. His second wife, Jeannette Des Ormeous, 18, whom he married last May 5, found out that Anderson went through the marriage without divorcing Lorna Kay Wright, 22, when going through his papers.

Anderson had a lot of papers to go through, too. He was convicted three times for tampering with the United States mails. Lorna notified him, he said, that she had obtained an outstate divorce while he was serving time in the Federal pen at Milan, Mich. He did not check further, he said.

This Agriculture

By G. W. ROBERTSON

In many ways 1952 has been the year we had always dreamed about but had always missed on some account. It started off with an abundance of snow lying on a great part of the 1951 crop. Once spring had come it left nothing to be desired, for the old crop was soon safely harvested and the new crop seeded. During the growing season wet spells seemed to come at the most opportune moments and the record crop went on to mature in a satisfactory manner. A fall, perfect in every way for harvesting, assured that nearly all of that wonderful crop was safely garnered and stored away.

The one dark spot on the record season derives from this quality of excellent growing conditions. Weeds were a problem such as they haven't been in many years. Wild oats were everywhere, spring ploughing, summerfallow and even breaking seemed to be seeded with wild oats. The wild oats seeded down in the fall of '52 will provide a problem for years to come.

In the world of wheat Starland seemed as it has never done before. On one previous occasion we had a world wheat king. In 1952 we had both the world wheat king and the runner up—a very significant accomplishment indeed.

In retrospect we realize that 1952 was remarkable in a number of ways. There was no significant number of grasshoppers wireworms or cutworms and no great outbreaks of potato beetles. In the entire municipality of Starland there were no losses due to hail or frost, prairie fire or other disasters such as wind erosion.

Apart from the handling of the record crop—in many instances two crops—there were other notable gains. Many homes were immeasurably improved. Houses have been moved, floors have been relaid, redecorated and plumbing installed in many farm homes—notable gains deserving of the widest emulation. The very favorable weather which prevailed was an important factor in carrying out this great program of improvement. There was no easing of activity until Christmas was at hand.

Another development of 1952 which is very gratifying to this agricultural community is the progress made with a great road building program. The provincial highway running through the municipality from north of Drumheller to the eastern boundary has been brought up to a satisfactory standard of gravelled highway and made ready for surfacing at a later date. In addition to that great work a very considerable municipal program of road construction has been successfully carried out.

Our cattle industry is deserving of mention on one count. A few years ago Starland was declared a restricted area for Bang's disease. Steady progress has been made over the years but 1952 was the first season in which it has been possible to get all the calves in the municipality vaccinated before Christmas. In all 1,747 calves were vaccinated this year. We are now well on our way to our goal—a Bang's free area.

A glance backward or stock taking is valuable only so long as it helps to formulate a program for the days which lie ahead.

With so much that is favorable so near, to sound a warning seems almost an affront. However, ordinary precautions are never altogether out of place. During the entire growing season of 1952 the great problem with summerfallow was to control the weeds. The result in many instances is that, although there was ample trash cover last spring when operations started, successive operations have reduced the amount of trash remaining to a dangerous extent. If the dry weather which has now prevailed for the past several months continues into spring, there could easily be some serious soil drifting.

A further projection of this thought applies to the stubble now standing in the fields which were harvested in 1952. If such stubble can possibly be handled with the equipment that is available it should never be burned. The long continuing dry spell makes this condition doubly true. This spring burned off fields could easily give rise to a serious soil drifting problem.

At the moment all signs say "All Clear." There is little debt against the land, taxes are pretty well paid up, homes are being improved, we can count ourselves among the world's most favored few. We might well pause for a moment in gratitude before we give the order "Full steam ahead."

Workmen's Compensation Board Opens Clinic

EDMONTON—First of its kind in Western Canada, a new 1,000,000 workmen's compensation board rehabilitation clinic is nearing completion on Edmonton's south side.

For the first time in the four western provinces, the emphasis in a rehabilitation clinic will be on occupational therapy instead of routine physio-therapy. This means that a disabled worker will now be trained, in as many cases as possible, to take over his old job after an accident.

At present in clinics such as Winnipeg's Deer Lodge hospital, the stress is on treatment which primarily aims at only restoring normal functions of disabled limbs.

Dr. J. R. Fowler, clinic medical director, said the problem of returning a disabled man to his former employment, or one suited to his handicap, has been beyond the scope of other western clinics.

"The result has been a serious loss to industry and the national economy," he said. "And to an injured man a poorer-paying job or, at worst, no job at all."

"When our new clinic opens its doors in about one month, the long waiting list of disabled Alberta workmen will receive the benefits of four aspects of therapy: occupational, physical, remedial and rehabilitation."

The clinic, which will accommodate 150 out-patients and in a few years time will be expanded to take in-patients, is equipped with the latest scientific equipment.

"We have, too, our own specially-trained tradesmen to aid in occupational therapy, such as carpentry and welding, under the supervision of trained therapists," Dr. Fowler said. "There is even an eight-cylinder gasoline motor to take down and reassemble. This will give practice in muscle dexterity and boost morale as every man likes to tinker around with a motor."

The economic importance of the new clinic will be its efforts to return disabled workers to the ranks of the employed, although Dr. Fowler said a difficult task yet to be tackled would be educating employers to accept these men as capable workers who could fill responsible positions.

However, the largest part of rehabilitation—both occupational and physical—depends on the individuals themselves.

"I have seen paraplegics (persons paralyzed in two limbs or more) more eager to resume their old jobs than some of the minor disabilities such as nothing more than a torn muscle," Fowler added.

The higher tax on candy cut the sale of chocolate bars from 37 million dozen bars in the first half of 1950 to 23 million dozen in the corresponding period of 1952.

Pilot Saves Trio From Ice Floe

EDMONTON (BUP)—The pilot of a ski-equipped aircraft belonging to Associated Airways of Edmonton Wednesday made a daring rescue of three fishermen drifting on an ice floe on Great Slave Lake in the North West Territories.

Smoky Grey of Edmonton, pilot of the plane, sighted the endangered fishermen on the ice floe while he was on a flight with passengers in the Territories. He radioed back to headquarters for permission to rescue the men.

Tommy Fox, owner of the Airways company, told the pilot to land his passengers at Sulphur Bay and attempt the rescue, which was made hazardous because the ice raft was only five inches thick. It was 600 yards long and about a quarter-of-a-mile wide.

Grey successfully landed his aircraft on the thin ice floe and took off with the three fishermen for Hay River. He resumed his passenger flight Thursday.

Bennett, Manning Plan Provincial Co-Operation

VICTORIA — Canada's two Social Credit premiers held a meeting recently to discuss expansion of rail and road links between the sister provinces of British Columbia and Alberta.

British Columbia Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced he would confer with Premier Ernest Manning in their first meeting since Social Credit came to power and Bennett became premier. He was accompanied by Finance Minister Elmer Gunderson.

Bennett said he would discuss expansion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Prince George, B.C., to the Peace River country where it would join the Northern Alberta Railway.

He said the Peace River rail transportation was a matter of "national policy" this raising speculation as to the fate of the PGE, operated by the British Columbia government. The northern Alberta railway, observers noted, operates jointly under the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways.

Bennett indicated other matters would be discussed with Premier Manning when he said discussions would touch on "mutual problems" of the two provinces.

In connection with "oil, gas and pipeline discussions," Mr. Bennett said: "Great development in our government is anxious that now taking place in the B.C. sec- this be expanded to the optimum tion of the Peace River area but degree."

Letter to the Editor

OUR PRESENT SITUATION

Without taking up valuable Forum space in antiquated belief expression, I wish to quote from the Technocrat magazine of June, 1945, Vol. 13, No. 6, which sets forth my views of our present situation, as a result of my 72 years of objection to, and appraisal of our present social and economic methods of "die dog or eat the hatchet" control, which is becoming more profligate every day:

"America is in the midst of a struggle to fulfil its social destiny—a destiny made possible by its wealth of resources and Technology.

"We are in the midst of a battle between the old and the new—scarcity vs. plenty; hand tools vs. technology; the status quo vs. social change. We are fighting this battle today on the home front, and in military combat—this fight against fascism.

"Confronted by the adversities of this battle, America must mobilize the total conscription of its resources—men, machines, material and money, with national service from all and profits to none—or America will go under."

Read, not to believe, nor to refute; but to weigh and consider.

Rabies Spread
SeriousCampaign Launched
In Northern Area
To Crush Disease

EDMONTON — The provincial government announced Wednesday night that a widespread poisoning campaign has been launched in northern Alberta in an effort to halt the spread of a rabies epidemic among wild animals.

Forest Rangers, Mounties and extra helpers are poisoning hundreds of wild foxes and wolves which are spreading the disease from the Fort Vermilion area to other parts of the northland.

Officials say the epidemic has spread into the Lesser Slave Lake region and along the banks of the Athabasca River, and to stop the migration of the infected animals, many are being poisoned and shot throughout 400 square miles of rugged bush and timber country.

Evidence that northern Alberta's rabies epidemic among wild life has spread to within 175 miles of Edmonton has been reported by Dr. E. E. Ballantyne provincial director of veterinary services.

NEARS SETTLED AREAS

Dr. Ballantyne said Wednesday that the situation is "serious," with the disease spreading "close to the main settled areas of Alberta." The high-infectious disease, carried by wild animals such as foxes and wolves, causes madness and death. Humans are not immune to it.

The veterinary director said a fox with rabies was killed at Margie, 174 miles north of Edmonton, in the first week of December and a rabies infected coyote was found at Fort MacMurray in northeastern Alberta last month.

Fort MacMurray, in the fabulous oil sands region, is only about 60 miles across the border from La Loche, Sask., where another rabies outbreak was reported Wednesday among dogs. A federal veterinarian, Dr. George Rankin of Regina, flew to the area, 250 miles northwest of Prince Albert, to start a vaccination program.

Dr. Ballantyne reported the spread of the disease in confirming a communication from a pioneer northern Alberta medical practitioner that the rabies epidemic was not over. Last October Dr. Rankin returned from Fort Vermilion, 350 miles northwest of Edmonton, and announced the epidemic had been stamped out.

FROM BAD TO WORSE

Dr. Mary Percy Jackson of Keg River, 125 miles southwest of Fort Vermilion, said the situation had gone from "bad to worse" in her district and that eight hogs and two steers had died of rabies there in the last few weeks.

Dr. Ballantyne said this is believed to be the first time in Canada's history that rabies has spread to domestic animals. By Dec. 1 it had infected 20 cattle, 13 hogs and six horses as well as "a fair number" of dogs.

Seven persons in the Fort Vermilion area were vaccinated against the disease. They include an Indian child, bitten by a dog, who showed disease symptoms.

Rabies was first spotted in Alberta June 8 at Fort Fitzgerald, 10 miles south of the Northwest Territories in the northeastern corner of Alberta. By July it had spread 180 miles southwest to Fort Vermilion, the province's most northerly farming centre.

While the disease at first was thought confined to northwestern Alberta, it has spread south and east across the northern half of the province until it now is within 50 or 60 miles of the town of Lac La Biche, Dr. Ballantyne said.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner
Addresses A.F.A. Convention

EDMONTON—In his address to the 12th Annual Convention of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, Honorable J. G. Gardiner said that the agricultural industry is more prosperous this year than at any previous time in Canadian history.

Because farmers have taken advantage of their opportunities, they are responsible for their own prosperity.

The minister said Canada's wheat crop this year "is the finest ever grown." The number of bushels produced is between 130,000,000 and 140,000,000 bushels greater than ever before.

The per-acre yield the minister said is about double the long-term average, resulting in greater production and increased returns to the farmer. One of the best ways for farmers to improve their own position, he said, is to improve their farming methods and increase output.

LIFT EMBARGO MARCH 1

Mr. Gardiner reported that in his belief, the United States is satisfied that Canada did a good job in handling the foot-and-mouth disease problem. He pointed out that it has been reported U.S. embargoes on Canadian livestock will be lifted March 1.

When the embargo is lifted, he predicted, pork producers in Canada will be in an improved position despite the fact that Canadian pork prices at present are higher than U.S. prices.

He commended the Canadian cattlemen for their co-operation in solving the problem of international embargoes.

Mr. Gardiner said the federal agriculture department is interested in spending money on such projects as irrigation to increase productivity of prairie farms. He said he believes this country is worth developing in every way it can be developed. Greater production, he said results in improved living conditions on the farm.

86 Die In World's Worst Plane Crash

MOSES LAKE, Washington: In the worst plane crash in history, 86 of 116 passengers aboard a giant Globemaster lost their lives. Passengers were servicemen, homeward bound for Christmas.

The giant four-engine aircraft, as big as a four-roomed house and able to carry 200 combat troops, crashed off the end of the runway seconds after the ship became airborne. Broken wing tanks caused gasoline to flare instantly, searing the trapped in the wreckage.

The tragedy capped six weeks of disasters in military aviation, in which ten planes have crashed or disappeared in the Pacific Northwest, and the Far North.

SMART BABY

ALBANY, N.Y.—Mrs. Edgar McCombe slammed the kitchen door accidentally when she went out to put out the cat. Her 14-months old daughter, Linda Diane, who was playing on the kitchen floor, followed her mother's instructions to drag a stool to the door and turn the knob that unlocked the door and let her mother back in.

poison. Six trappers and four forest rangers are doing this work. Two federal veterinarians are vaccinating some 750 dogs at Fort Vermilion and the same work is being done around Manning in the Peace River block.

The government has written all of Alberta's 1,800 registered trappers, giving them symptoms of the disease and precautions against it.

Besides poison, a severe winter could help stem the disease by cutting down the fox and wolf population so that surviving animals would have enough local food without migrating great distances for it and thus spreading the disease.

J. G. GARDINER

AFA In Favor Of
Wheat Agreement
Renewal

EDMONTON—The Alberta Federation of Agriculture during their three-day annual convention in Edmonton passed a resolution embodying their favor to a renewal of the International Wheat Agreement and recommended substantial increases in ceiling and floor prices with a fixed floor price.

The convention favored a request for federal floor prices under all farm products "when such action becomes necessary to protect producers from serious loss."

Also sought was a policy of buffer zones to contain disease-infected areas and permit crossing of international boundaries where necessary. This was intended to guard against future embargoes such as those which followed this year's outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

Siamese Twin Girls
Separated By Doctor

CLEVELAND — Siamese twin girls have been separated by surgery at Mt. Sinai hospital here, it was disclosed. They are in fine condition in incubators. No vital organs were involved in the band which joined them.

Three doctors participated in the case and the surgery was by Dr. J. S. Geller. They would not disclose the parents' name.

The twins arrived at 3 p.m. Sunday, a little ahead of schedule, and the surgery was performed three hours later, after tests had been made to determine the extent of the connection.

The surgery took about one hour.

Dr. Geller said "each baby was independent unto itself. They had no vital structure in common, and in medical terms that meant they were operable. Had there been some vital organ shared by the twins, it would not have been possible to operate."

The band was an inch to 1 1/2 inches wide, joining the twins at the point where the chest and abdomen meet.

Dr. Geller said it was "a fleshy band covered with skin and containing cartilage. There were no major blood vessels connecting the two infants."

ADVERTISING IN WEEKLY PAPERS IMPORTANT ASSIST TO BUSINESS

TORONTO—Weekly newspaper advertising has been one of the determining factors in making Canadian consumers aware of the importance of buying "Brand Name" goods at the local market level, J. P. Gledhill, president of the Packaging Association of Canada, told members of the association recently.

"The combined effects of newspaper advertising and pleasantly designed packages," he said, "have been primarily responsible for the broader distribution of Canadian-manufacture goods in this country."

Commenting on what he termed "a noticeable decline in personal salesmanship at the retail level," Mr. Gledhill stated that manufacturers, retailers and distributors have had to "counteract this trend by creating a consumer interest in the product through newspaper advertising and by packing the product in a container that will tell its own story and close the sale."

"It is no longer sufficient," Mr. Gledhill emphasized, "that a product be of sound quality and value alone. It must be properly advertised and packaged to ensure the best results at the retail level. The beneficial results of advertising speak for themselves," he continued.

continued, "and the vital importance of packaging in our present economic scheme may be found in the fact that the Packaging Association of Canada now represents a $50,000,000 industry employing over 100,000 people."

This merchandising tie-in between advertising and packaging is "a combination that has to a large extent been responsible for the continued success of the Brand Name," Mr. Gledhill said.

 in the Army. I love my husband very much but I just don't think he is doing me right. He has made his mother a cheque and she gets sixty dollars a month and I get sixty-five. I don't think his mother needs the money because she gets seventy-five dollars from a son who was killed overseas and the doctor has said that his father could work if he wanted to but his father says he is sick and won't work. There are three more kids at home—two boys, eleven and fifteen years old and a daughter, 18, who wants to work but her mother won't let her—her mother won't let her go anywhere by herself.
 To get back to the money part, I am sick all the time and going to the doctor and I have other people to pay. I just can't get out of debt and now I am going to have a baby.

I think he should stop his mother's cheque so I can get out of debt but he won't, so I am just about crazy. Please tell me what to do.

M. J. P. — Ky.

Answer:
 Of course, I have just heard your side of the story but you do seem to be in a bad spot. Surely, if your husband knows that you are expecting a baby, he will realize that you will have to have more money and will not be able to work yourself.
 I don't know what your father-in-law's trouble is but if the doctor thinks he is able to work there is no excuse for him to be sitting down and depending on a married son to support the family. And a girl of eighteen can find part-time work if she doesn't live too far away from things. Certainly under these circumstances your husband's duty is first to you and the expected baby.

Of course, I do not know what your arrangement was when you got married. I have known men who were reluctant to get married because they felt obligated to their families and they were assured by their fiancées that things would go on just as before as the girls were willing to go on working and carry their share of the burden. That does throw a different light on the situation, but the fact that a baby is on the way changes things.

Perhaps by this time he will have thought the matter over and decided to increase your cheque.
 Good Luck,
 LOUISA.

HON. GEORGE PRUDHAM SAYS

Federal Geological Surveys Made
Oil Discovery Possible in Alberta

OTTAWA—Mines Minister Prudham says the Social Credit government of Alberta is claiming credit for oil developments when it knows the discoveries would not have been possible without the aid of federal surveys and geological maps.

Mr. Prudham, member for Edmonton West, spoke in the commons Thursday night. He devoted his 40-minute speech to criticism of the Social Credit government of his province, and of Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit party.

He described Mr. Low as the "member for Ottawa who represents the Peace River" district of Alberta. Mr. Low makes his home in Ottawa.

The federal geological branch, said Mr. Prudham, made surveys of oil and natural gas areas of Alberta long before the turn of the century. The industry still looks to the federal geological branch for much information.

The federal government still is attempting to find a way to develop the tar sands of northern Alberta, estimated to hold some 900,000,000 barrels of oil.

The solution would be found only through co-operation of federal and provincial governments and private enterprise.

The Alberta government, he said, has done little to help the coal industry although it has received millions in royalties. The federal government has paid subsidies to the industry and has contributed $200,000 to a McGill University experiment with a coal fired gas turbine engine.

Mr. Prudham said Mr. Low had stated that Alberta has the best health insurance system in the world. The federal government deserved some credit for its contributions, amounting to about $3,000,000 this year for hospital construction and better health facilities.

The federal government had contributed to education in Alberta, to forestry conservation and toward construction of a trans-Canada highway. The Alaska Highway could not be used to full advantage because the Alberta government had not built connecting links into the rich Peace River area.

Mr. Prudham said the Social Credit party could claim no monopoly on Christianity. While making such a claim, the party frequently made misleading distorted and unfair criticism of federal government policies.

If any claim could be made of good government in Alberta, it was due to the lack of Social Credit policies rather than the application of them.

Get $100,000
In Yukon Theft

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (BUP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Whitehorse confirmed that bandits had stolen $100,000 from the Yukon and Whitepass Route Co.'s office in the northern settlement.

Mounties said the thieves had not been captured. An RCMP officer said headquarters at Ottawa had been given a full report on the theft.

It was believed the thieves had taken the company's safe away in a truck. The amount was reported in cheques, bonds and cash.

The Yukon and Whitepass Route operates the railway from Whitehorse to Alaska, and also controls the British Columbia and Yukon navigation bus and freight lines from Dawson Creek to Whitehorse.

GEOFFREY WADDINGTON—

Recognized as one of the leading musical figures in Canadian radio, Geoffrey Waddington, Director of Music for the CBC, has not only been an active musician, but has been instrumental in stimulating a greater interest in the work of Canadian composers and artists for many years. During his musical career Mr. Waddington has served in many capacities. He has been a member of the faculty of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, an organizer and director of the former Toronto Chamber Music Society, a first violinist with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, conductor of the Winnipeg Summer Symphony Orchestra, and many CBC concert and symphony orchestras.

A Penny Saved

UTICA, Mich.—Grocer Earl McClellan has about 100,000 old zinc pennies in a keg in his store. He doesn't like them, however. He's keeping them out of circulation because people confuse them with dimes. When the keg is full he'll dump 'em on a bank.

FEDERAL FUNDS USED FOR EDMONTON HOSPITALS

Alberta, with its fabulous oil revenues and excellent financial position has not been without federal financial aid in the important field of Health and Welfare.

Three hospitals in Edmonton have just been awarded federal grants totalling $669,600 to help them meet the costs of enlarging their accommodation. Federal Health Minister Paul Martin announced last week.

More than $406,600 have been set aside for the University Hospital which is adding space for 375 active treatment beds, an eight-bassinet nursery for premature babies, a six-bassinet isolation nursery, and 18 beds for a psychiatric section. The new construction contains modern obstetrical and paediatric units to replace obsolete services housed in separate buildings. Costs of construction not covered by the federal grant are being met by the province.

The Edmonton General Hospital is to receive $203,000 each from the federal and provincial governments toward costs of providing space for 180 additional beds and a 69-bassinet nursery. Included in the new construction is a surgical floor with nine operating rooms, new obstetrical and paediatric services, an outpatient and an emergency department.

Twins Joined At Head Separated;
May Live

CHICAGO (BUP)—From a medical viewpoint, an operation ended in Chicago Wednesday night that may make surgical history.

To Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brodie, it was an unparalleled nervous ordeal.

But at any rate it is over. After 11 and one half hours, doctors announce they have separated a pair of 15-month-old Siamese twins, whose bodies were joined at the head. They don't yet know if the children will live—but if they do, it will be the first time in history that such an operation has been successful.

Little Roger Lee and Rodney Dee Brodie were joined at the head—their feet pointed in opposite directions. If the operation had not been attempted, they faced a lifetime of lying on their backs. They could never stand or sit up.

Their parents knew the terrible risk—but they decided on the operation anyhow. Brodie said only that he wants his children to have normal lives.

Five separate teams of surgeons, doctors and technicians took part in the marathon operation, under direction of the hospital's chief surgeons. It started shortly before 9 a.m. (EST), and ended about 7:30 p.m. Through it all Mr. and Mrs. Brodie waited outside the operating room—praying.

All that we know right now is that the twins have been separated—and they are still alive. A doctor says their ultimate fate is unknown. And the doctors, nurses and technicians who took part in the non-stop session were too tired to talk any more.

Thieves Wreck Safe
But Get Nothing

EDMONTON—(BUP)—Some safe-crackers drew a blank early Saturday when they pried off the bottom of a safe in the office of the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co.

The wrecked safe was discovered upended with the bottom pried off and the contents scattered all over the office.

Office manager D. F. MacAlister said the thieves didn't get away with any money as the firm banks all its cash. The safe was used to keep company records.

MARLER REAPPOINTED AFA
PRESIDENT AT ANNUAL CONVENTION

EDMONTON—At their three-day convention in Edmonton, AFA delegates returned Roy C. Marler of Bremner as their president. L. E. Pharis of Macgrath was named to the first vice-presidency, and K. V. Kapler of Strome was second vice-president, with James McFall again named secretary-treasurer.

Ninety delegates attended the convention which saw several sweeping resolutions passed and heard as guest speaker, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, the Federal Minister of Agriculture.

Among the resolutions approved was one urging federal and provincial governments to pass legislation which would provide the final settlement of disputes between employees by a properly constituted board of arbitration.

Delegates to the convention also asked for a provincial-federal contributory health insurance plan "which will provide for all citizens, full medical, hospital, dental, optical, and other health care."

The Alberta government was asked to introduce a car insurance plan in the province and make an immediate start on a provincially owned and controlled rural electrification system. The AFA wanted car, theft, and fire insurance coverage to be provided at cost on an optional basis through the Alberta insurance office.

The convention urged that a plebiscite be taken to determine if establishment of an egg marketing board on an experimental basis is wanted by the majority of poultry raisers and farmers in Alberta, and the provincial government was urged to establish a board to enquire into the "whole question of vegetable oils invading the dairy fields of Alberta, and to the effects of this invasion on urban and rural economy, and on the health of Albertans.

The board of directors was re-elected. Members are: Roy Marler of Bremner, president of the AFA; the FUA president, Henry Young of Millet; Phil Baker of Lethbridge; L. E. Pharis of Macgrath; K. V. Kapler of Strome; Mrs. W. C. Taylor of Wainwright, president of the Farm Women's Union of Alberta; L. R. Jensen; Hugh Allen of Hualien; Ben Plummer of Bassano; and Jake Frey of Arneson.

Tabled also by the Federation was a report on the proposed merger with the FUA. Delegates voted to continue efforts to "consummate closer co-operation" between the two farm groups.
